Who we are

Lechlade Baptist Church has been part of the Lechlade community since 1817 when the Baptist Church in Sherborne Street was built by the then Lord of the Manor, William Fox.

The church has recently been extensively refurbished. While retaining the simplicity of the original layout, it is now as light, warm and welcoming as we have been able to make it.

There are hundreds of Baptist churches in Britain and many more around the world. The term 'Baptist' was originally given because of the practice of baptising people by full immersion in water as a public sign of their trust in Jesus Christ.

You do not have to consider yourself a Baptist, or have any particular background to be welcome at Lechlade Baptist Church. We have people in the church from a variety of denominations – and from no denomination. We all come together because our lives have been changed by meeting Jesus Christ.

What we do

The Christian Gospel has been described as one beggar telling another beggar where to find bread. At Lechlade Baptist Church we try and help each other to grow in the Christian faith and to help others meet Jesus. Our services are informal but always firmly based on the Bible.

Each month we have an all-age service of around 45 minutes which is planned to have something for every member of the family. We also have 'Something Different' evening services, usually twice a month.

We spend time together each Thursday evening to pray and to learn from the Bible. There is also a home group fellowship each Friday.

The popular craft group meets in the church twice a month for making craft items and sharing ideas.

You can be sure of a very warm welcome at any of our activities.
